

TREASURES ON THE DEEP

6. Robert Morrison - Part I

1. Robert M_____ was one of the great missionaries to China.
2. He went to C_____ where he lived in a tumbledown house in the city of Macao, not far from the port of Canton.
3. His work was to make a d_____ of Chinese words, so that eventually a Chinese B_____ could be produced.
4. All his work had to be done in s_____. This was because the Ch_____ at that time wouldn't allow people from other countries to learn more Chinese than was necessary to do business.
5. Robert Morrison soon became i___ because he never went out and spent all his time st_____.

Robert Morrison went on to translate the Bible into Chinese with the help of some of the Chinese.

- E_____.
6. One day the b_____ came to his house and began to make f___ of him and push him about. He was so ill that he had to go out into the street to get help.
 7. This led him to meet Mr Morton of the East India Company. He took Robert M_____ to work for the company.
 8. They protected him, and in 5 years the d_____ was finished,.
 9. He also married Mr M_____ 's daughter, Mary.
 10. The dictionary was sent to I_____ to be printed. For ___ years he heard nothing more about it.